BUD BREAKS OUT IN CITY ADMINISTRATION "BUD" MARS ENDS HIS DIZZY FLIGHT

Supervisors In Line For Fight

"Solid Five" Caucuses and Settles Upon Course Of Action In Future

Another long fight between Mayor and the Board of Supervisors is in prospect, and tomorrow night when a new board takes up the active session of business, the fight will be carried into the open. The board is determined to make appointments without regarding the Mayor's candidates for various positions while the Mayor insists that he certain rights and will not forego them. Tomorrow night he is expected to make several appointments and simultaneously the board will also name its members for City and County positions, but the fight will be hotly contested. It was but a few minutes after the Mayor's announcement that the board of seven caucused and took a vote to stand together for the next two years. The five were Harry M. Frank, Kruger, Samuel J. Dwight, M. K. Amama and Charles Arnold. The two who did not attend the caucus were Eben Low and W. H. McClellan, the latter being a Democrat. The board that has arisen over the chairmanship of the roads committee was the reason that Low stayed away. The "solid five" pledged themselves to work together. They will insist on being chairman of the roads committee and Low for chairman of the ways and means committee, and will insist on their appointments.

Mayor Talks of City's Needs

City should control water works, sanitary service, sewers and its own sources of revenue.
New city hall should be built.
Children's playgrounds and small park system should be developed.
Streets and roads deserve more attention.
Fire facilities for fire department recommended.
Harmony between Supervisors and Executive Department urged.

Recommendations for the next year and a resume of municipal administration for the past two years contained in an official communication made to the Board of Supervisors at noon today, when the new administration began. Mayor Fern's letter is as follows:
"The City of Honolulu, as a municipal organization, has just completed its first period of administration. I am sure that each one of you, as well as the residents and taxpayers, will agree that the new government has been honestly, effectively and economically administered. It is true that the Municipal Act is not clear in all of its provisions, and differences of opinion arose as to what the law directed and what was required. Some of those differences were settled by honest discussions, and the balance were settled by the courts. After these decisions were reached, all got down to business and the public an efficient government should show interest."

City and county government has been proven in the past two years a success, and is a still further step in local self-government. If to reach its highest success, the city and county must become more active and intelligent in its efforts. If they do it will greatly benefit the city and county of Honolulu. But more than this it will be the time when full city government will be given to the city and this will be a city in which the people will be understood on the main time must come when the county must control mat-

This is the sentiment they carry into the new administration. Selections from the Municipal band under the leadership of Herr Berger ranged from grave to gay as the old Board of City and County Supervisors arose from their seats and filed out of the Assembly Hall to make room for the incoming members to take office at just seven minutes after twelve o'clock today. It was but a few minutes after members McClellan, Murray, Kruger, Arnold, Amama, Dwight and Low filed into the crowded room that they settled down to business. That a fight is on in earnest over the appointment of standing committees, submitted by Mayor Fern is plainly apparent by the attitude assumed by Supervisor Low who arose before the meeting came to a close and declare that he refused to sit as chairman of the ways and means committee. This announcement was not in the least unexpected. When the matter of appointment of standing committees was broached by the Mayor, member Murray arose and read off the list. The name of Low was not found at the head of the road committee. The chairmanship of this important committee had been assigned to

NEARLY $40,000 IN THE CITY TREASURY

The city and county of Honolulu has the following balance on hand with which to begin the new administration, according to the report made by Retiring Treasurer R. H. Trent today:

AVIATOR WHO MET HORRIBLE DEATH AT NEW ORLEANS BRILLIANT CAREER OF YOUNG FRENCHMAN IS ENDED

"Bud" Mars To Fly Once More

Last of Three Days of Thrilling
Exhibitions This Afternoon

Young Bud Mars will bring to a close this afternoon his three days' series of aeroplane flights. And if all goes well, another great crowd at Moanalua field will see this daredevil of the skies face without shrinking the same quick death that overtook two of his comrades last Saturday afternoon, a few hours before Mars made the first ascent in a heavier-than-air machine in this Territory. The flights begin at 2:30 this afternoon, and the crowd promises to be as large as that of yesterday, when several thousand were inside the enclosure and thousands more on the outside. Mars is giving a brilliant performance here, and the fact that there have been no tiresome delays in his flights has served to keep up interest. Everybody is talking flying-machine in Honolulu. Everybody that did not see the birdman on the first two days wants to see him today. Mars is feeling unusual difficulties in darning the shifting air currents of Hawaii, but he does it with such nerve that it looks easy. A bright-eyed trim appearing young fellow mounted a little seat in the aeroplane "Skylark" promptly at half past two o'clock on Saturday afternoon and three thousand people held their breath as the great winged affair scudded over the greensward at Moanalua in the direction of the Koolau range of mountains. When a few seconds later the flying machine was found not to leave the ground, an anxious expression mounted the faces of more than one present, fearing something of a serious nature had befallen the machine. A few minutes later, another start

NEW YEAR CELEBRATION COSTS LIVES OF FIVE LITTLE ONES

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 2.—New Year's Day exacted a terrible toll here today, when five children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home in this city. The children, together with their elders, were celebrating the New Year, and a tree was lighted for the occasion. In some unexplained manner the tree caught fire and before the blaze could be put out, the entire home had ignited and burned to the ground. The children were burned in the ruins.

CHILD'S LEG IS FOUND ON STREET

What looks like a murder mystery and so far has completely baffled the local police is the discovery of the mutilated leg of a child early this morning at Alakea and Hotel streets. The leg was discovered by a Hawaiian lad and soon there was a crowd at the spot where the gruesome object was found. Dr. J. F. Eckart, superintendent of the Queen's Hospital, and Dr. Mackall, city physician, both examined the leg. It is evidently that of a very young child, probably a babe in arms. Deputy Sheriff Rose has taken charge of the case. The leg was taken to the morgue, and efforts to find the body are being made. Indications point to the fact that some unfortunate mother has taken the way of murder to rid herself of an undesirable child. It is believed that the infant was of white parentage.

SOCCER GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

The third day of games in the soccer series of the Hawaiian Association Football League will be played this afternoon at the league grounds, the teams which line up being the High School and Puns and the Males and Iron Works. Monday of last week the second games in the series were played, and at that time the Iron Works defeated High School, 1 to 0, and the Puns won from Males, 3 to 2. The games this afternoon will be half of those to be played in the series, the dates for succeeding games being January 7, 14 and 21. Laena, a three-year daughter of Paikali, who had been sick for three weeks, died yesterday at the hospital. The little child, according to the police, was "unhappy."

States Greet New Governor

Inauguration Ceremonies Set
Many Changes In Party
Forces

(Associated Press Cable.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—All over the country today, States are changing their administration. The ceremonies of installing the successful gubernatorial candidates in the recent elections were participated in by a dozen States, and in each there were notable scenes. In Albany, N. Y., John A. Dix, Democrat, was inaugurated into office. Although the success of the Democrats and the installation of Dix were the feature, the topic upmost is the promised fight over the Senatorship that will be one vacant with the retirement of Senator Chauncey Depew. Many candidates are in the field. The California Legislature convened today at Sacramento, electing A. E. Boynton president pro tem of the Senate and A. M. Hewitt speaker of the Assembly. Governor-elect Johnson will be inaugurated tomorrow. In Carson City, Nev., Governor Odell, Republican, was inaugurated on the opening day of the Legislature. At Madison, Wis., Governor-elect McGovern, Republican, took office, and at Lansing, Mich., another Republican, Osborn, was seated in gubernatorial chair. The overwhelmingly Democratic Legislature of Ohio, and Governor-elect Harmon, were inducted at the White House reception. Mrs. Taft assisted in welcoming the brilliant array of guests.

U. S. TO SETTLE QUESTION OF WATER RIGHTS BY TAKING OVER SYSTEM ITSELF

A report, unconfirmed but with a ring of authority to it, was received in this city yesterday that the controversy over the water rights on the Oahu military reservation will result in the government itself stepping in and taking the rights. With the report came the story that John T. McCrosson will not be able to get a favorable recommendation on the bill now before Congress which grants the rights to himself and associates. It is also stated that the Wahiawa water company will not get a renewal of its present lease, in view of the fact that the government intends to develop the water right the reservation itself. Whether the government water to private consumers as the Wahiawa water company and various plantations is problem. No confirmation of the report secured today from any of the parties. However, that Capt. Castner, quartermaster here during the war at Schofield Barracks at one of the engineers who the war department on the two years or more ago that the government handle the water itself.

"NO CHANGES," SAYS SHERIFF RELEASE GIFT OF NEW YEAR

Wm. P. Jarrett, sheriff of Oahu, at noon today, announced officially that there would be no change in the personnel of his staff, at least for some time. But he emphasized the fact that he had practically reappointed McDuffie, as chief of detectives; Dr. E. N. Emerson, as police station physician; Julius Asch, as warden of Oahu Jail; Julius Asch, Jr., chief clerk of the department; Captain C. H. Baker, Senior Captain of Police, and W. R. Chilton, motorcycle officer. Jarrett, today stated that he intends to ask the new Board of Supervisors to increase the appropriation of his department, so that he can improve the condition of his men, putting them on a better and more efficient basis. As soon as his bonds had been approved by the Board of Supervisors, before whom he appeared at noon today, Sheriff Jarrett, accompanied by Deputy Rose went down to the police station, to greet his men back to the force. He congratulated them for the good work they had done in the past and asked them individually and collectively to be loyal to him and to be obedient to the service, to be assigned for the captain of police during the absence of Jarrett. Among those held in custody is S. Hubert, a Russian, arrested by License Inspector for selling liquor without a license. This man's wife, who apparently had no other relatives in the territory, visited him at the station, and they were together during the absence of Jarrett. Unlike the former years many of any kind were quiet there, and the the their work as usual 12 o'clock, a number in charge of a line down to Moanalua during the absence of Jarrett.
